TERRIFIC CLOUDBURST.

The Village of Utica, Ill., Destroyed in a Minute.

PEOPLE BECOME PANIC-STRICKEN.

Boats Pressed into Service to Rescue Those Who Were Imprisoned by the Water—A Great Deal of Property Damaged—The Illinois River Valley Swept by Terrible Rainstorms—Three Children Lost Their Lives by Drowning.

OTTAWA, Ill., June 19.—The village of Utica, nine miles west of here, was the scene of a cloudburst Thursday that is almost without parallel. A few minutes before noon an ominous looking cloud was observed hanging over the village and with a peculiar rolling motion shifted first east, then northward, and then apparently rolling back upon its path until it came directly over the town. The darkness that attended the gathering storm was like that of night. The people were terror-stricken and looked at one another in speechless suspense. Suddenly the flood-gates of the heavens were opened and at one awful burst a torrent poured itself upon the village, and almost instantly the streets were buried under water that rose over lawns, porches, and then into the houses, driving the people from their homes and their places of business to seek safety on the highest points available.

Six Feet of Water. The excitement and anguish of the fleeing panic-stricken villagers was terrible in the extreme. Many of them believed their last hour had come. Mothers hugged their children to their breasts and prayed for deliverance. Others, not entirely paralyzed with fear, devoted themselves to saving their property from ruin. Merchants removed their goods to upper floors. Small boats were pressed into service and persons imprisoned by the water were rescued. Within a few minutes of the cloudburst the water was fully six feet deep in the streets. It began receding at 2 o'clock, when the great damage to property could be discerned. Side-walks, fences and bridges were washed away; dwellings and places of business were partially ruined, and household goods on the lower floors were rendered worthless. In the manufacturing portion of the place the damage was great. The fires in the kilns of the Utica brick works were put out and the contents ruined and the kilns badly damaged. The cement company also met with a heavy loss.

Railway Bridge Washed Away. The Rock Island's new double-track iron railroad bridge over the Piquette creek was washed away, and four cars on a siding at the new cement works were carried down the stream. The canal bank broke in several places, which increased the volume of water, and took No. 13, just west of Utica, was torn out. Trains on the Rock Island road for the west were run to this point from Chicago, thence to Streeter by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and to La Salle over the Illinois Valley and Northern. The same route was taken by east-bound passenger trains. Freight trains were not run at all. Thursday night large gangs of men were at work removing the great beds of sand which washed upon the track from the Utica pits, while others were replacing the broken bridge. The loss is hard to approximate, but $100,000 is a conservative figure.

THREE CHILDREN DROWNED.

Terrible Effects of the Storm in the Illinois River Valley.

PEORIA, Ill., June 19.—Terrible rainstorms swept through the Illinois river valley, doing a great amount of damage to crops, gardens, and fences. In Ellettsville a small town across the river from Peoria, numerous houses were washed from their foundations and the people fled in their nightclothes to the railroad grade and the hills. The water in houses at Farmdale, seven miles east, rose to a depth of three feet, and the people narrowly escaped drowning. Herds of cattle, horses, hogs, and chickens were swept away, and the crops of farmers for a large tract of land in the valley were entirely ruined.

Floods in the Floods. The only fatality reported was in the Copperas creek valley, just across the line in Fulton county. A family named Gray had a cabin in the valley and when the flood left the banks of Copperas creek and rushed down the valley, the family grew alarmed. The father took his three boys and started to the hills, while the mother refused to leave the house. When half-way across the valley a floating log struck Gray and stunned him. The rushing waters drowned the boys (aged 13, 8 and 5), and he was narrowly escaped by clinging to the log. His wife got on the roof of the house and was rescued. The damage to bridges, railroad tracks and crops will reach thousands of dollars.

PENNSYLVANIA VISITED.

Many Houses Carried Into the Stream at Georgetown.

PITTSBURGH, June 19.—Leechburg, thirty miles northeast of this city, on the West Pennsylvania railroad, was visited by a most terrific rainstorm about 8 o'clock Thursday night, which, for a time, assumed the proportions of a cloudburst. At Georgetown, below Leechburg, several houses and stables were washed away and considerable property was destroyed by the flood in Anderson's run.

Swept Away a Culvert.

The water suddenly rose to a height of thirty feet, and rushing down the mountain struck the massive stone culvert, which was crossing the railroad culverts, completely demolishing it. The torrent of water then passed through the town, overturning houses and carrying half a dozen of them down the stream. Two of the houses carried away belonged to Daniel Bowers, of Leechburg. John Frank, who was crossing the railroad culverts had several ribs broken and may die. All railway traffic was cut off. The damage will probably not exceed $15,000.

Buried in the Ruins.

NORFOLK, Va., June 19.—A mammoth lumber shed in course of erection for Stran Bros., in Bardely, was blown down during a sudden thunder and rain squall, burying fourteen men beneath the debris. Monroe B. Kline was killed, and L. E. Hines and J. M. Keeler were seriously injured. The others were but slightly hurt.

Cyclone in New Jersey.

PATTERSON, N. J., June 19.—The village of Hawthorne, two miles north of this city, was visited by a cyclone, which destroyed scores of houses and barns, uprooted almost every tree of value in the settlement, and killed hundreds of birds, poultry and cattle. A large number of private cottages and tenements were badly damaged, but only one person, a domestic in the employ of Edward Throlop was known to have been killed.

Sixty Lives Were Lost.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 19.—Latest advices about the cloudburst last Sunday in Conception mountain, in the state of San Luis Potosi, are to the effect that at least sixty lives were lost.

SIDED THEIR TIME.

Canadian Officials Settle H. H. Warner's Steamer Sista.

ROCHESTER, June 19.—Wednesday night H. H. Warner, of Rochester, with a party of friends was on his way to the Thousand Islands on the steamer Sista, owned by Mr. Warner. The Sista struck a shoal off Horse Shoe Island, two miles from Kingston. A lifeboat was manned and sent to Kingston to secure help. About a year ago when the Sista was making a trip down the river she and the schooner Sista, owned by Kennedy & Co., collided off Kingston and the schooner was sunk. The Foster and her cargo were valued at $7,000 by her owners and Mr. Warner was asked to pay the sum to her owners, which he refused to do, and since that time the Canadian officials who have the matter in charge have been endeavoring to catch the steamer. Canadian waters in order that they might seize and hold her in bond for the damages.

Seized the Sista. When the Sista's crew reached Kingston on Wednesday night they had no difficulty in securing aid, but it came rather surprising form. The tug Olivia Gordon went to the rescue of Mr. Warner and his party and brought them to Kingston, where the Canadian officials informed him they intended to tie up his boat. He protested against this, but his protest was useless. At Kingston the Sista, after being slightly repaired, was tied up and placed under $10,000 bonds. Mr. Warner gave the necessary bond, Henry Folger of the Thousand Island Steamboat company being one of the sureties on the bond. The Sista was then released by the party and came to Alexandria. What the Canadian people will do now in the matter is hard to prophecy, but it is probable that Mr. Warner will have to fight a suit against Kennedy & Co.

Malleo and Malleo.

LONDON, June 19.—A Melbourne dispatch states Samson advices received there are to the effect that Chief Malleo, accompanied by a force of natives, had started for Mabe, the centre of the intrigue which is known to exist against the sovereign rights of King Malleo. This movement by Malleo will, it is believed, lead to further trouble. The two chiefs, who by order of Malleo had been imprisoned for sedition, escaped and joined Malleo. The latter returned them to Malleo, and during an interview which was held between Malleo and Malleo, the former told the latter that although he (Malleo) had been recognized as the king by the powers, he (Malleo) was the real ruler of Samoa.

Young Lady Burned to Death.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Early Thursday morning Emma Delcher, of the village of Riverside, Ohio, was burned to death. Her father had arisen early to go to the market to procure goods for his store. Emma was to open the store and wait for his return. The store room being dark she was obliged to light a gasoline lamp. It did not seem to work properly, and while she still held it in her hand a puff of pure flame rolled out into her face. Her screams attracted a neighbor, but she had inhaled the flames and died two hours later. Her head was burned in a horrible manner. She was only 15 years of age.

Poison in the Flour.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—A Sun special from Hagerstown, says that Daniel Shifler, a farmer of Locust Grove, found a package of flour and another of coffee near his house. He gave the articles to a mail carrier, who used them, and the entire family was made sick. One of the children died and another can hardly recover. The other members of the family are all right again. A post-mortem showed that poison had been mixed with the flour. It is thought the poisoned articles were in some way some enemy. Mr. Shifler for his family. The police are investigating the affair.

Landed in Safety.

PARIS, June 19.—After the fall of the aerostat at Villefrance, the two remaining occupants of the car were utterly ignorant of the management of balloons, and as the airship lost itself in the clouds the spectators believed that their fate was sealed, and that in all probability they would soon reach an altitude fatal to human life. After a perilous experience, however, the voyagers descended at Versailles and landed safely.

A "Bikeing" Crank Robs His Father.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 19.—Hamilton Turner, the 19-year-old son of a prominent lumber dealer of this city, was Thursday afternoon taken to the Leaning Tower and held in custody until the morning of the 20th, on the charge of forging his father's name to a check for $15, the money being used to defray his expenses in last week's Century Bicycle club run, he being a participant.

Disaster to an Expedition.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The geological survey has received information from I. C. Russell of that bureau, who left here a month ago to explore the glacier on Mount St. Elias, Alaska. The telegram was very brief, and the effect that the party had landed at Ice Bay on June 6, and in landing, Mr. O. C. Moore, a lieutenant, and four seamen were drowned.

Destructive Work of Stamped Cattle.

FORT DODGE, Ia., June 19.—A monster herd of cattle stampeded at Tuttle's Lake. There were 4,000 head in the herd, owned by farmers in Humboldt and Kosciusko counties. In their frenzy the vast mass of crazy cattle demolished fences and ruined crops for miles around. Many of the cattle have been seized and held for damages.

Supposed to Have Been Drowned.

IDA GROVE, Ia., June 19.—It is now feared that Joseph Platts, an Ida county farmer, and his 9-year-old son were drowned in the Maple river Tuesday night. They left the city that evening about 8:30, and have not since been seen. They were obliged to ford the river, and were doubtless swept down the stream.

At Sheephead Bay Thursday Riley ran 1 1/2 miles in 2:35 1/4.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Untidy Solons of the House of Representatives.

HOW MEMBERS TREAT THEIR DESKS.

The Bad Emulgence of a Texas Lawmaker—Illinois Men Make Good Records for Cleanliness—The Immortal Martin and His Pocket Knife—A Contrast in the Senate, Where the Members Are Not So Vigorous in Their Gestures—Carpet and Relics—Official Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The work of cleaning up and preparing the congressional chambers for the next meeting of congress is now going on, and an interview with the janitor and a look over the chambers reveals some interesting facts. The seats still retain the names of the members who occupied them during the last congress, and afford a comparative study of cleanliness as practiced by public men. For example, the seat occupied by ex-Congressman Payson, of Illinois, is without scratch or tarnish and by all odds the least marred of any in the whole lot. Mr. Springer's desk is also free from scars and tobacco decorations. Representative Springer neither smokes nor chews and is unusually tidy. The desk of ex-Representative McKinley will not require very much labor to be put in order.

Joe Cassin's Mysterious Gestures. In fact, there are not many of the Illinois delegation in the last congress who can be called untidy. Perhaps Uncle Joe Cannon was the most careless, and his desk shows marked evidences of his unpolished style of gestures with which he used to plead for the preservation of the sundry civil bill in its pristine purity as it had been handed down by Uncle Joe's committee on appropriations. Gen. Henderson, of Illinois, has won a warm place in the hearts of the janitors of the house for the care he has exercised in preserving his seat and desk unmarred. The venerable Vaux, of Philadelphia, has also immortalized himself by like diligence.

The Dirtiest Desk in the House.

The old colored janitor looked up from the rude, battered desk which he was laboring over, and in answer to a question replied: "Yes, this is by all odds the dirtiest desk in the house. It's so every year," and glancing over the plate thereon the name of Culbertson, of Texas, was observed. The venerable pundit is an inveterate smoker and chewer, and the janitors have been working hard to keep him from putting things in order "again the next session." "I don't like to say it," resumed the colored janitor, "but the Democrats are least tidy in the care of their desks."

Work with the Pocket Knife.

There's Col Mills, of Texas, who used to get as furious as a mad bull and upset the ink-well and pound his desk for hours while quarrelling with Speaker Reed. McMullin of Tennessee used his fist too often when making speeches. But the souvenir he has left of his quarrel with his desk with his heels. Martin of Texas brought his jack-knife along with him, and when not employed in chopping out great slabs from the hard oak, used to take out his plug of navy tobacco and dissect it lying on the top of his desk, a dapper and somewhat hairy man, he was in congress looks more like a butcher's block than anything else I know of."

COMPARISONS WITH THE SENATE.

The "House of Lords" Keeps Up Its Reputation for Dirtiness.

The reputation of the house for cleanliness suffers by comparison with the senate. For example, in the house it is necessary to replace a new carpet every two years, while in the senate one lasts for four. The members of the house are generally so rude that Uncle Sam restricts them to hard oaken desks, while the senators recline over mahogany. Again, it is considered in keeping with the eternal fitness of things to provide the tidy senators with a higher grade of carpet than is supplied for members of the house, and while an expenditure of $1.50 a yard suffices to supply the house, the carpet which covers the senate floor costs $2.25 a yard.

Quantity of Carpet Required.

It usually takes about 1,300 yards double width to cover the house, and 1,000 yards to supply the senate. Up to ten years ago those carpets were all imported, but some enterprising home industries put forth a patriotic protest, and the clerk of the senate have received orders to patronize only home manufacturers hereafter. These orders for carpets are always placed early in the vacation, so the carpets must be made after a special order. When the old carpets are worn out, the janitor is old and wailing and wailing and wailing old at auction or placed in the galleries.

Carried Away for Relics.

The cloth which covers the desks is generally carried away by relic-hunters. There were no less than a half-dozen demands for the cloth which came from the late Maj. McKim's desk, but a Washington general had exercised wise forethought by carrying it away the very day after congress adjourned. The cloth from Speaker Reed's throne has been scattered to the four winds of the earth in bits none of which exceed two inches square. The janitor's cool charge of this souvenir shortly after the house adjourned, and parcelled it out in small bits to the supply, if possible, meet the demand, but it failed to do so. During the meeting of the medical congress recently nearly every available relic about the late house of senate was carried away by visiting doctors.

A Question of Typical Color.

Already the clerk of the house is hesitating between two colors of baize for the desks of the next session. In view of the influx of a number of Alliance members it has been suggested that green would be the proper color, while a demand to the Republican minority demands that for at least one-half of the house blue should prevail. Everything is expected to be put in readiness by the first week in November, and when the finishing touches have been put on, visitors must view the elegance from the galleries.

No Paupers Need Apply.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Assistant Secretary Nettleton has directed the return to Regen, Bavaria, of John Brane, a pauper immigrant who arrived in this country on the steamer Elder Jan. 15, 1891. It is shown that Brane was not apprehended on his arrival, but made his way to Milwaukee, Wis., where he became a public charge. It is further shown that Brane was a public charge in the city of Regen for five years prior to his departure for this country, and that his passage was paid by the local authorities of Regen.

Civilians Nominated to the Army. WASHINGTON, June 19.—The following named western men have been selected by the secretary of war for examination for appointment to the army from civil life: William M. Crofton, Illinois; Harry L. Rogers, Michigan; William Wallace, Indiana; and Robert C. Williams, Illinois. The examination will be held in this city commencing July 13 next.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary Foster left yesterday for Fostoria, O. He will return Friday, June 26. In his absence Assistant Secretary Spaulding is acting secretary of the treasury.

Wedding Presents Datable.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The treasury department has decided that wedding presents sent from abroad must pay duty, unless it is shown that they were manufactured in the United States.

THE CHICAGO GRANT STATUE.

Belisso's Work Cast in Bronze and Ready to Go on the Pedestal.

CHICAGO, Mass., June 19.—The colossal statue of Gen. Grant, designed by Louis Belisso, of Cincinnati, has been cast in bronze in this town, and will be shipped this week to Chicago to stand upon a magnificent pedestal on the lake shore driveway in Lincoln park. This statue is the largest ever cast in this country, exceeding, as it does, in size the statues of Washington both in New York and Boston, but being somewhat smaller than the Washington statue in Richmond, Va., which was modeled by Thomas Crawford, and cast in Munich. It measures 8 ft. 6 in. in height from the shoe of the steed to the crown of the hat, with all parts in proportion, weighs eight tons, and cost $25,000.

The Unveiling in September.

Mr. Mosman, who is a sculptor as well as a foundryman, has met with great success in this work, and the massive parts of the statue present in the finished work in which they are joined as a whole a thorough perfection in which there is not a single flaw or blemish. On or about Sept. 1 this statue will be mounted on its massive pedestal in Lincoln park. The whole will cost $75,000, which has been subscribed for the purpose by the citizens of Chicago, and will be by them unveiled with befitting ceremonies. The pedestal, which has been ready for more than a year, is of granite and including the statue is 80 ft. 8 in. above the Lake Shore drive at their desks.

NORTHWESTERN PREFERENCES.

As they appear to a Couple of Republican Politicians.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Ex-Congressman J. B. Gillilan, of Minnesota, was at the Gilsey house Wednesday. Speaking of politics in his state, he said that Minnesota was for Blaine in 1892, but that it was the feeling that he did not desire to be a candidate, and if he did not the party was well satisfied with Harrison, and would readily support him. Senator Pettigrew, at the Fifth Avenue, said the northwest was wild for Blaine; even the Farmers' Alliance would vote for him. "With all this Blaine feeling Harrison is liked. His administration has been popularly received, and the people of the new states have not forgotten that he was their friend when he was in the senate, and as chairman of the committee on territories worked so hard to secure admission. It is not that they love Harrison less, but that they love Blaine more."

A Specimen of Our Civilization.

GADESVILLE, Ill., June 19.—Trainmen report that as the train was passing the woods between Bradford and Fort White, Columbia county, some distance from any house or habitation Wednesday, they saw a man tied to a mile-post. The train was stopped, and an examination showed it to be the body of a tall mulatto. He had been hatched four or five years ago, and was a specimen of our civilization. His hands were tied behind his back and his body literally riddled with bullets.

A Combine in Outcome.

AKRON, O., June 19.—The American Cereal company, incorporated at Columbus with a capital of $3,400,000, organized here yesterday. Thirty mill men were present, representing oatmeal concerns in Iowa, Illinois, and Ohio. The new company, the officers say, will not try to obtain any monopoly of the market on oatmeal, but rather to reduce the cost of production. Headquarters will be in this city, with a branch in Chicago.

To Put Up Prices of Farm Products.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 19.—The charter of the Broom Corn Growers' Association of Kansas was filed Wednesday. The object of it is to store at Sterling broom corn and other farm products. It is understood that this is the first of many companies of this kind to be organized by the farmers for the purpose of enabling them to hold their farm products until they can get good prices for them.

Van Fraug's Jury Fails to Agree.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The jury in the Solomon Van Fraug case, after an all-night discussion in the jury room, came into Judge Blodgett's court yesterday morning and reported that they could not agree. They were then discharged, and Van Fraug's case will be tried again in the fall. Politics, it was admitted, entered into the dispute. The jury stood six to six.

The Irish Campaign Fund.

LONDON, June 19.—The details of the Irish plan of campaign fund show that of the total of £120,000, £20,000 was contributed in America. Of this large sum the tenants only received £27,000, the balance being used in legal expenses, for buildings in New Tipperary, and in other ways, after deducting £3,000 which was stolen by a forged check.

Decision in the Slavin-Kilrain Fight.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Jere Dunn, the referee in the Slavin-Kilrain glove contest, rendered his formal decision last night. He awarded the fight to Slavin, but declared that Kilrain was not knocked out. Byes that the contest would not last ten rounds are won, because the winner is declared after less than nine rounds had been contested.

CASES IN COURT.

A Divorce Granted Mrs. Shorb-Fleming Sentenced to the Penitentiary.

In the circuit court yesterday Judge Vall took up the case of William H. Shorb vs. Mary A. Shorb, divorce. At first it was intended to have a trial by jury, but the complainant concluded to withdraw his answer to the defendant's crossbill, and did so. The crossbill was heard by the court, and a decree was granted on the ground of desertion. The costs were assessed against Mr. Shorb.

The case of Alfred Sysons vs. the Decatur Coal company was taken up. He was hurt in the coal shaft some time ago, and brings suit for $20,000. The coal company demurred to the plaintiff's bill, on the ground that he did not allege in it that he was using due care and caution. The attorneys for Sysons say it is questionable whether or not that is necessary, according to law. That point will be determined today.

CHANCERY CASES.

Elijah Jett vs. Rebecca A. Jett, divorce; motion by complainant for continuance.

Marion A. Waterhouse et al. vs. D. C. Cortley, partition; report of master approved and decree granted.

Joseph C. Robinson and Margaret McRoberts vs. Eliza J. Brewster, chancery; motion for new trial overruled.

PROBATE'S DOCKET.

James Fleming, George Maples, Henry Cooper, burglary and petit larceny; the motion of Cooper and Maples for a continuance was allowed. Fleming was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Probate Court.

The will of Edward Culver was admitted to probate. John H. Culver was named as executor. The personal estate is estimated to be worth about $10,000. The will is dated Feb 17, 1891 and is witnessed by Jacob D. Schweitzer and W. H. Henshie.

To the widow is bequeathed $1,000 in cash, the stock in the Blue Mound loan association, and the household goods. The real estate is to be sold and the proceeds to be divided among the eight children.

Lewis H. Eymann was appointed guardian of Charles M. and Harry H. Eymann, and bond fixed at $500.

Dismissing School Districts.

County Superintendents Lows, of Moultrie, and Martin, of Platt, met yesterday at Hammond to discuss the situation in school districts along the line between the two counties. Some people who live in Moultrie county, near Platt county schools, want to send their children to those schools.

Mr. Lowe objected, because he thought granting the request would make a precedent likely to have bad results. The whole matter will be referred to County Judge Davidson, of Platt.

Left Town.

For two or three days the walk in front of Justice Curtis' office has been kept hot by Joseph Gipson, an old man who wanted Joseph O'Brien put under bonds to keep from killing Gipson. His complaint was to have been heard yesterday at 1.30, but when that hour arrived, Gipson failed to appear.

The justice was informed that he had left the city. As he was mortally afraid of O'Brien it is supposed he thought it would be safer to go out of town than to depend on a peace bond for safety.

Assault on Mail Wagon.

Two miles from the United States mail station, 20 miles southeast of Decatur. He was brought home on the T. H. & P. train.

Dr. N. D. Myers was called and tied the artery and dressed the wound. He will be laid up for several days.

Appraised.

H. E. Foster, Daniel Moore and Jack McFarland appraised the Owen property at 524 East Main street, yesterday.

The property was sold some ago to Mr. Connor at a private sale and a valuation was set upon it for the benefit of the heirs. The house was valued at $1,100.

Moultrie's Circuit Court.

Circuit court will open at Sullivan next Tuesday. The most important case will be the Seass murder trial. A case that will come up, and has already caused a great deal of discussion in the county is too disgusting to be described in the papers. Four boys have been indicted.

Real Estate Transfers.

R. H. Hill to Charles W. Sleeter, 40 acres in Pleasant View township; $2,400.

Mame Devore to Charles E. Schroll, a lot at the corner of Edmund and Edward streets; $2,300.

Gone to Europe.

C. M. McMahon, principal of the High school, left for Chicago last night, where he will visit a short time and then depart for Europe for a short vacation.

Married.

Charles E. Richey of Urbana and Miss Ella M. Phares of Clinton were married Thursday night by Justice Curtis in his parlors at the hotel Brunswick.

A Foundation.

Samuel McRoberts has just finished putting a new brick foundation under his store building, at the corner of North Park and Franklin streets.

A Service of Song.

The Arion quartette, assisted by Miss Madeleine Lettingwell, will give a song service in the opera house tomorrow evening.

Waynesville.

You can buy ice of Jones & Son. Tom Dick is running two sets of hands on his brick yard.

Industrialist Marion Baker was in our burg this week.

P. Maxwell rode the Odd Fellow's goat Tuesday night.

Our streets would have a better appearance if the weeds were mowed.

A good sidewalk has just been built from the hotel to Garrett's livery barn.

Why did not our citizens have patriotism enough to have a celebration here on the glorious Fourth?

John Smith, of Decatur, who has been visiting his sister for several days, returned home Thursday.

Quigg & Tanner has had a neat little grain office built just west of Heisterman's carriage and wagon works.

Baseball here is now a settled fact. Waynesville has a good nine and is now ready to challenge the world.

On Wednesday C. B. Tenney and family, and other relatives here, went to Clinton to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. G. K. Ligham.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Julia Walker.

Mrs. Julia Walker, wife of G. W. Walker, died at 9.30 yesterday morning at her home, five miles southeast of Decatur, of la grippe. She was 25 years old. Her home was Weir City, Kan. She came to Illinois about three months ago for health and died at her cousin, Mrs. Frank Scott's. The funeral will take place June 20, from the Presbyterian church at Mt. Zion. The burial will be there.

Joseph Woods.

Joseph Woods, the son of Robert Woods, died Thursday night at his home near Walnut Grove, of pneumonia. His death was caused by consumption. Mr. Woods was born in St. Clair county, Ill., on the 23d day of September, 1846, and was 44 years old. He leaves a wife and five children, his father and two brothers, John and Alfred, the latter living in Lincoln, Neb. He was one of Macon county's prosperous farmers.

The funeral will be held at Salem church, Sunday at 10 a. m.

Trouble Among Neighbors.

Jacob Troutman of Troutman station, was brought before Justice Hamner yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Jennie Holderness, who alleged that Troutman had used profane and abusive language towards her husband. The justice heard the evidence and then dismissed the case. Mrs. Holderness and one witness testified that Troutman was guilty. That gentleman and one witness testified that he was not.

Immediately after he was discharged, Jacob Troutman had two warrants issued for Robert Holderness and his wife, Jennie Holderness. One complaint was that they had "threatened to horsewhip, shoot and kill" the affiant. The other was that Jacob and the Holdernesses put under bonds to keep the peace. Both cases were heard together by Justice Curtis.

It was an exciting case, and the court room was packed. Attorney Webber appeared for the people and Lee & Gray appeared for the defendants. Fred Troutman, John Curry, Robert Holderness, L. N. Allen, Thomas Jordan, Lewis Shouke, Lizzie Jacobs, Enoch Knoop, Jacob Troutman, Jennie Holderness and W. L. Hamner were the witnesses examined. Justice Curtis dismissed both complaints.

Miss Condiell's Musical.

Miss Mary Condiell, assisted by a few of her large class, gave a musical and festival to the parents and friends of the pupils Thursday night. Those who played were Misses Laura Tullis, Anna Roberts, Ada Johnson, May Brown, Ollie Kunkle, Anna Curtis, Louise Gastman, Lily Condiell and Boss Condiell. About 20 numbers were given and especially worthy of mention were the piano duets, the Mozart "Turkish March" by the Misses Condiell and the Mozart "Sonata in G." by Miss Ada Johnson and Boss Condiell, and the "Klank Sonata in E" by Miss Laura Tullis and Miss Condiell. The house was crowded with a very appreciative audience and all the pupils did great credit to their teacher.

The Dramatic Company.

More seats will be put in the Oakland park theatre tonight. There were not enough last night. As the weather was not wholly favorable for an open air theatre and the audience was highly pleased, it is rightly concluded that the audience tonight will be a great deal larger. It was a thoroughly good performance, however. This company includes some good actors, and during their engagement should do a large business. Last night the bill included "Dora," a domestic drama, followed by a farce, "The Three Unfaithful Husbands." Both plays were presented in a very creditable manner.

Another performance will be given tonight, beginning at 8.30. The company's engagement will last till July 1. The bill will be changed 10 times.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. James S. Carter gave an afternoon tea from 3 to 5 yesterday in honor of her guest, Mrs. J. R. Bear, of Chicago, formerly of Decatur. About 35 ladies called between the hours given. Fruits, cake, lemonade and tea were served.

Funeral of C. H. Newell.

The funeral of C. H. Newell will take place from St. Patrick's Catholic church Sunday, June 21, at 1 p. m. The services will be in charge of Rev. P. J. Mackin. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

Plended Guilty.

Before Justice Curtis yesterday Joseph Robinson pleaded guilty to selling liquor to the husband of Mrs. Mary Ricketts. The husband is a drunkard. The justice placed the fine at $5. That with the costs amounted to $11.

Marriage Licenses.

Charles E. Richey, Urbana, $1
Miss M. Ella Phares, Clinton, 17
Louis W. Friberg, Decatur, 37
Alice E. Billington, Decatur, 34
